

Evaluations

Question	Rating 1 2 3	Rating 4 5 6
I enjoyed the conference		100%
The venue was good		100%
Advance info was effective	3%	97%
I liked the format of the event	3%	97%
Plenary presentation: virtual learning and teaching by video-conferencing
I enjoyed this seminar		100%
It was appropriate to my needs	7%	93%
I will follow up in class	17%	83%
The Podcast factory
I enjoyed this seminar		100%
It was appropriate to my needs	3%	97%
I will follow up in class		100%
The Interactive Whiteboard
I enjoyed this seminar	18%	82%
It was appropriate to my needs	18%	82%
I will follow up in class	22%	78%
Positively mobile
I enjoyed this seminar	4%	96%
It was appropriate to my needs	11%	89%
I will follow up in class	18%	82%

GLOW
I enjoyed this seminar	18%	82%
It was appropriate to my needs	22%	78%
I will follow up in class	24%	76%
Try it and you will learn
I enjoyed this seminar		100%
It was appropriate to my needs		100%
I will follow up in class		100%

Some comments from the Communicate.07 evaluations:

In the podcast seminar a great deal of technical knowledge was assumed and I struggled to follow the point and clicks. It would be interesting to have a workshop following the technical side as it moves on so quickly.

We need to find a way of reaching more teachers with events like this. Local authorities need to work more closely with Scottish CILT in providing follow-up opportunities for teachers.

...(We needed) a little more time for 'hands-on time'.

It would have been beneficial to have had more time to try out the practical things for yourself.

Was not quite sure what to expect. Was very pleasantly surprised.
(Primary teacher)

Lots of ideas to take away, not all appropriate to primary, but with possibilities for the future and sparking ideas for cross-curricular work.

Yet another interesting, informative and stimulating day. As ML teachers we are fortunate to have the opportunity to attend such conferences.

Very stimulating up-beat event!...Ultimately, the question might be asked: how will this affect the interface at secondary/university level? Cross-sector seminar/workshop on langs/ICT? (University teacher)

I come from a university (and) I was interested to see how modern languages schoolteachers work. It would be even more useful to see how the work they're doing can be carried on at university level.

I found the presentation from Anderson High School particularly inspirational. It made me realise how much more we could do to exploit our international links.

I found the whole conference extremely thought-provoking and worthwhile. The plenary session was fascinating.

I thoroughly enjoyed the plenary session. It was motivating (and) challenging.

As usual some things (most) needed more time. However, the depth was balanced by the breadth. An exciting day!

More information about individual sessions pre-conference would have been useful.

Great conference overall. Very timely and relevant – this is the future of language learning.

I was very impressed by the course as a whole and especially was inspired by the global education and international links presentation at the start.

Inspiring – and I am in my last five years of teaching! Congratulations to Stewart Hay and the young people who attended. They were models of self-confident outward-looking global learners. Wonderful! A credit to their generation!

Only disappointed that there was only time to attend two workshops – they all seemed so interesting.

This day has shown me how important it is to move forward.

I found that both of the seminars I attended were merely scratching the surface. I would have wished for more time to get more detailed instructions.

Wonderful! I am enthused!

I found the sessions very inspiring, and – especially – practical. I'll be taking a lot of ideas back and using them in my classroom and school.